

About the Author

Karen Calendo

Dr. Karen Calendo, DBA, is an Assistant Professor of Management, and Disciple Chair of Management in the College of Business. Along with teaching health care management courses in the Adult Learning Program (ADP), ADP Program Director at Concordia University Chicago. Serves as a Board Member of the ThinkFirst National Injury Prevention Foundation

She joined Concordia University Chicago in 2018. Prior to serving at Concordia University-Chicago, Dr. Calendo was an Associate Director and Associate Instructor for the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee. As well as the Founder of the UW-Milwaukee Entrepreneurship Veterans Readiness and Support program supporting six (6) Education Centers located throughout Wisconsin.

Dr. Calendo also served over eleven (11) years of administering community-based public health programs. Dr. Calendo's areas of expertise include entrepreneurship, management, marketing, program development & implementation, marketing, grant writing, coalition building, and community health education.

Dr. Calendo received a Doctorate of Business Administration PhD from Argosy University-Chicago and her Masters in Management & Leadership from Webster University-St. Louis, and a BA in Sociology and Social Work from Central Missouri State University.

